FLEXPOINT PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

As the leader in digital education, FlexPoint creates innovative ways to help administrators and teachers reach their potential through education and development. The best teachers know how to motivate and engage students, and the best administrators know how to support and evaluate teachers. FlexPoint instructional tools and professional development offerings are designed with both groups in mind. To assist students, teachers, and administrators, FlexPoint Professional Development courses are specifically designed to address the changes and trends that happen in the online classroom at a fast pace. Each session is developed specifically for the target audience and encourages participations and engagement.

FlexPoint is committed to developing flexible professional development options to meet various needs. All courses, except for our Becoming an Effective Online Teacher digital course, are available as online webinars or on-demand webinars and can be customized. FlexPoint Professional Development is available year-round and can be scheduled on demand.

CUSTOMIZED PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

FlexPoint offers the option to provide participants with customized training that focuses on specific organizational needs. The FlexPoint staff will work closely with participants to provide consultation and training that meets unique organizational needs.
